Despite the oppressive weather this past week, artist John Lennard was able to spend several days on the mural. The 12 foot by 60 foot canvas on the side of The Times building depicts the early logging history of the Haliburton Highlands. This photo was taken last Friday, when cooler conditions allowed the artist to make some progress before it became too hot.

Fire ban imposed

The fire ban instituted last Wednesday is expected to continue into this week despite the rainfall received Friday.

The ban was invoked Wednesday across Haliburton County, and most of windfalls will

hospital fund*

Two Haliburton County municipalities are about to cash in on some winning numbers from the Ontario Lottery Corporation. Both Anson, Hindon and Minden and Dysart council have agreed to give the windfall with the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation.

Dysart will receive $19,871 from the Ontario Lottery Corporation, while AH&M is receiving $12,776 as part of its advance funding program for charities. The province, through the Management Board, is giving local municipalities up to $40 million for redistribution to local charities. The funding has been divided on a per capita basis. The advance program will only last until March 31, 1999.

After some discussion among council members at a July 15 meeting, Reeve Murray Fearrey suggested that this money could be directed to the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation, since the municipality is already committed to giving money to the foundation, either through the Central Ontario north to the North Bay region, after several weeks of extremely hot and dry weather.

The conditions left the forests tinder dry and so the ban was ordered of the fire chiefs across the county and the Ministry of Natural Resources. While the rain which fell Friday offered some relief, one spokesman said that to bring the rating back to a reasonable range would require a steady rain for at least 24 hour. The showers, though heavy at times, were generally not enough to eliminate the hazardous conditions. Therefore the ban will remain in effect until conditions improve.

While most burning is banned, there are some exceptions. "It's a ban on all burning including campfires," said Mackenzie. But with a recent change in policy, some fires can be lit at resorts or large facilities providing they meet the stringent requirements laid out by the Ministry of Natural Resources. Anyone who has questions regarding these restrictions should contact the MNR for information before considering lighting any fires.

According to Mackenzie, all eight fire teams based in Haliburton have had a busy summer. Not only have they been extinguishing fires in this area, including a fire in Algonquin Park last week, several teams were sent to northern Ontario to fight fires near Geraldton.

Two teams have also been sent to The Yukon. "We have been busy," said Mackenzie. It is hoped the ban will help reduce the number of calls and give the NR and municipal fire departments a respite from the number of calls. Residents are advised to watch the fire danger rating signs located throughout the county. They are updated on a daily basis.

Piecing it together

Quilters gathered on Friday and Saturday to work on the new Archie Stouffer Quilt at the Minden County Town Museum. The blocks were painted by grade three students from the school and arranged by Marvella Smith. Here Jean Cox, grade three student Jessie Stamp, Hilda Deacon and Fiona McFarland stitch a fish pattern around the border to go with the under the sea theme of the quilt. The finished product will be one of the many on display at the Second annual Quilt, Rug and Fibre Arts Show on July 25 and 26 at the Minden Community Centre. In addition to the quilts the show this weekend will feature hooked rugs, toothbrush and four braid rugs, demonstrations, musical entertainment, a selection of antique cars and workshops. The show opens each day at 9 a.m.

60th anniversary

It was a special occasion for Ed and Peggy Pettinger this past weekend. The couple marked their sixtieth anniversary with an open house at the lounge in Staunworth Terrace. Many friends and relatives dropped by to mark the occasion, including Ed's brother and his wife from Toronto and many other family members. Ed and Peggy purchased a cottage on Bob Lake in 1939 and retired to Minden in 1968.

Just the ticket

Flanked by Haliburton Health Services Foundation Chair, Dale Walker, left, and Vice Chair, Ray Selby, Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey purchases the first tickets for the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation gala dinner and dance. The event, called "A Midsummer Night's Dream", will be held August 29 at PineStone Resort. The evening includes a gourmet dinner followed by dancing to the 20 piece GTA Swing Band. Tickets, available through members of the Foundation Board or at the Foundation offices, are $100 per person. A tax deductible receipt for $55 issued for each ticket purchased.

Driver sentenced to 3 years

Terry McIlmoyle has been sentenced to three years in jail on a charge of dangerous driving causing death. The sentence was handed down several weeks ago in Lindsay.

McIlmoyle was charged following a two car collision August 9, 1997 in which high school student, 18 year old Bob Sisson, was killed. Three other students riding in the same car sustained injuries in the head-on crash on Highway 118 north of Haliburton.

The 40 year old man was also convicted of dangerous driving causing injury and sentenced to an additional six months in jail.

The Fraserville, Ontario man also had his licence suspended for eight years.

Hospital fund boost

budget process, or other grant programs,

Fearrey felt that this would be an excellent opportunity to make a sizeable contribution to the foundation. "Why don't we just give it to the hospital fund? I think it makes sense whether it comes from the budget or this money," said Fearrey.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Jeanne Anthon said her council felt the most pressing need right now was the Hospital construction and has allocated all of the lottery funds to that project.

Dysart Ward One Councillor Nancy Roberts suggested that some of the money could go to the Ladies Auxiliary for its teleradiology campaign. Fearrey stated that if the bulk of the money went to the foundation, the auxiliary might receive a portion of this funding. Council passed the resolution to allocate the money to the Foundation.

The two council have also challenged other municipalities in the county to follow their leads.

MNR will continue to operate dam

It will be business as usual at the Kinmount dam. The Ministry of Natural Resources will proceed with repairs to the dam and will continue to operate the structure as it has in the past.

"The decision reflects the desires of the majority of those in the community who are directly affected," said project co-ordinator Ross Wray of the Minden MNR office, in a letter sent to stakeholders. "The ministry will, however, continue to pursue discussions with those groups which are willing and competent to assume ownership of this dam."

Until such time as the ownership changes, the ministry will continue to operate it as it has in the past.

Repairs to the structure are scheduled for this fall. The freeze/thaw action has eroded parts of the concrete piers. Restoration of the downstream sills is necessary to prevent further deterioration and surface patching will repair areas where the concrete has begun to chip.

During the period of construction, which is expected to take place from mid-September to mid-October, it will be necessary to draw the water down. This will result in a substantial lowering of the level upstream from the dam. The area immediately above the dam will see a drop in water level from four to six feet. The water level near Three Brothers Falls is not expected to be significantly lower than usual.

Wray, who is the project co-ordinator, invites anyone who believes the lowering of the water level for the construction period will adversely affect their water supply to contact him to discuss possible solutions.

The project is being planned in accordance with the MNR's requirements under the Environmental Assessment Act. Anyone who feels that serious environmental concerns remain unresolved, after consulting with MNR staff, may request that this project be subject to an individual environmental assessment under the Act. The decision will rest with the Environment Minister.

Comments and information collected regarding this project will be kept on file and, unless otherwise requested, will be available for public review.

It was pointed out that no significant environmental concerns have been identified with regard to the repairs and public response has been positive. With that in mind, the period to respond with any environmental concerns has been reduced to 15 days.

Inquiries, comments or requests regarding this project should be directed to project co-ordinator Ross Wray at Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden Area Office, Minden, Ontario, K0M 2K0 or by telephone at 705-286-5212 or by Fax at 705-286-4355.

The deadline is Tuesday, July 28.

If no serious concerns are received within this time, the project plans will be finalized and filed with the Ministry of Environment and the project will proceed without further public notice.

Mountain Lake property owners cautioned about outboard motor thefts

Members of the Mountain Lake Property Owners Association were warned to take precautions to ensure the security of their smaller outboard motors. A member of the association issued the advisory at the group's annual meeting July 11 at Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

The individual told the meeting that a series of thefts had been reported on Boshkung lake earlier this year. The thieves apparently worked from the water at night. The culprits would untie moored boats and move them away from the cottage dock to an area where they would remove the motor and set the boat adrift. The thieves appeared to be targeting the smaller motors, including 9.9 hp outboards. The members were cautioned to be alert to unusual activities on their lake and to take precautions in securing their boats and motors.

Donations

The association approved a $500 donation to the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation in support of the capital works projects which should be starting this summer. The contribution will be split over two years. Association member Pat Daniel, commenting on the contribution, noted that the Foundation has a long way to go to raise the estimated $6.5 million required to cover the community's donation had symbolic value, he reminded his fellow members that individually they have an obligation to back these projects with their personal donations.

Prior to endorsing the contribution, the association heard from Foundation board member Jack Brezina who outlined the current status of the projects.

He told the meeting that the pre-approved general contractors are preparing their tenders for presentation July 24. It is expected, following the close of the tendering process, that the contract can be awarded and construction begun on the Minden and Haliburton sites by the end of August.

The association also made a $50 donation to the Haliburton Outdoors Association. It was pointed out that this group had co-ordinated the enhancement of the spawning beds in Mountain Lake, as well as other Highlands lakes, last year. The spawning bed improvements have helped, with larger egg masses being noted. It was mentioned that Mountain Lake is one of the few Highlands lakes which contains the pure strain of lake trout. Rather than affect that gene pool, Mountain Lake has not been stocked with hatchery stock. However a program to strip eggs from lake trout in the lake, fertilize them and then raise the eggs in the hatchery could put the lake on the stocking program. By taking the eggs from native fish, it would ensure the purity of the strain while allowing the association to add to the lake trout population in the lake.

The association executive will also consider being a part of a group purchase of a seat in the new Performing Arts Centre at the Haliburton High School.

Terry Fox challenge

"Don't embarrass Mountain Lake." With those words Mountain Lake Property owners have been warned of the challenge issued by Horseshoe Lake Property Owners Association to raise donation for the annual Terry Fox Run. The Horseshoe Lake crowd say they

Green acres

Bob Robinson says he likes to see things grow. That's obvious by the garden he has planted at the Scotch Line landfill site.

It all started, he says, when someone was going to throw away some tomato plants. With a ready supply of compost and a variety of previously enjoyed containers, the garden started to take shape when he cultivated those first few plants. Others have since dropped off more plants and the garden has grown. The crop now boasts green peppers, cucumbers, Chinese lettuce and even some watermelon plants.

"It was just an experiment," Robinson said. "If conditions are right next spring, maybe I'll do it again."

Haliburton County in Bloom

Minden Home & Garden Tour

Like bees in search of pollen, flower lovers toured Haliburton County on Saturday for the Minden Home and Garden Tour. Hundreds of people visited nine locations and delighted in the beauty of the homes, gardens and historical buildings across the greater Minden area.

The tour included a tea room sponsored by the Minden Women's Institute at the Minden County Town Museum and Agnes Jamieson Gallery. As well the tour travelled down the river to the Wild Swan Bed and Breakfast, owned by Paul and Linnea Baynton on North Water Street. Then it was off to Moore Falls, where on Green Gables Road, three homes were showcased.

Arlene and Rae Holden displayed their garden. Arlene is the president of the Norland Horticultural society. Green Gables House, home to Hilary Brown and Leo Sepa had an almost constant lineup. Next door the quaint and cozy Richmond Villa, built in 1936 gave visitors a chance to relax in the cool shade on the shore of Moore Lake. "I can't believe the reviews my little shack is getting," said an enthusiastic Anne Richmond. "It's just wonderful."

Dave and Laura Willis, of Sandy Bay Road, opened the doors of their newly built lakefront home to the throngs of guests. Then it was off to Lake Kashagawigamog to visit the Wallace home in Ingoldsbay, a stately home with five fireplaces.

A trip to Mountain lake took tour members to the home of Ed and Lynn Hancock. Here the strains of the Highlands Brass Quintet could be heard across the property as guests strolled through gardens of lilies of mammoth proportion.

The final stop on the tour was Pritchard House, the home of the Haliburton Highlands Handweavers and Spinners, where artisans demonstrated their skills.

The tour was also a success for all Minden area residents, as all of the proceeds will go to the Minden Hospital Building Fund.

will be able to raise more money for Cancer Research, through the Terry Fox run, than the Mountain Lakers. They were reminded that the run, in which participants can walk, cycle, or roller blade, will be held in Minden on September 20 from the Minden Community Centre. The local fund raising target is $7500.

Reeve's report

Jeanne Anthon, a former president of the Mountain Lake Property Owners Association, was on hand to address the group in her present capacity as reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden. She repeated a warning she has given at previous meetings, that as a result of down-loading, new municipal responsibilities and the impact of actual value assessment, a greater share of the municipal tax burden will be shifted to lakefront property owners. When asked if she could be specific about the size of the tax increase, she suggested a number of figures, but then withdrew the comments saying the municipality had just received the tax roll from the assessment office and is still going over the figures and analyzing the impact of the new municipal responsibilities.

She said the Anson, Hindon and Minden tax bills will likely not be sent until the end of August.

Anthon did point out that over the past four years, the council, under her leadership had not raised municipal taxes. She said the township has been cutting back over that time period and said there was little left to be cut from the spending which the council can control.

The group was told that one of the new charges faced by municipal taxpayers will be the cost of policing, which was previously paid for by the province. Anthon said this amount $524,000, is the highest in Haliburton County. She said the policing costs are based on the concentration of services and people in the municipality.

She also pointed out that recent lightning storms which passed through the area have caused, unexpected expenses for the municipality. In addition to the loss of computers, fax and other machinery at the municipal office, the storm also caused a fire at the Minden sewage treatment plant destroying the control equipment at that facility.

At the start of her presentation, the reeve paid tribute to Patrick Daniel, who was in attendance at the meeting. She noted that he had been the driving force behind the creation of the association, which is marking its 20th anniversary this summer.

The meeting also heard from Evan Brown of the quality assurance branch of the Ministry of Revenue. He described the recent introduction of actual value assessment across the province and the impact it could have for property owners. Brown noted that since all property is being assessed by its 1996 market value, it is easy to compare assessments of properties of approximately equal value. He pointed out the system is fairer to property owners and ensures that in a system where municipal taxes are based on the value of property, each member of the community will be contributing a fair share in taxes.

Brown described the appeal process for those who feel their assessments were incorrect. It is a two-step system in which assessors will respond to a property owner's objection to the assessed value. If the property owner is still not satisfied, the matter can be taken to an independent board of appeal which will render a final judgement on the assessment. The appeal process will cost the property owner $20. The Ministry of Revenue spokesman said that while anyone can appeal their assessment, the result will not always be a reduction. Brown recounted that upon investigating the appeal of one property owner, the assessors found items which had been overlooked or not included in the original assessment. As a result, the assessment increased after the appeal was completed.

Water quality

Lake Steward Bruce MacMillan told the meeting that the quality of the lake water has remained constant compared with last years results. He described

Taking advantage of opportunities

A spokesperson for the Ministry of Transportation reported to a recent meeting which we attended that the possibility of including a bicycle path on one side of the reconstructed Highway 35 through Minden was considered. However, when the agency did not hear from anyone interested in supporting the idea, it was shelved.

Now, the new Highway 35 bypass (or the present one for that matter), may not be everyone's idea of a great place to ride a bicycle, walk or manoeuvre a snowmobile, but in more than a few instances, stretches of Highway like this one can provide vital links to other, quieter places to enjoy those pursuits. In fact, highways, which are vital links, are often barriers to other forms of locomotion. The wide band of asphalt and columns of speeding cars make it dangerous to cross or separate one side of the highway from the other.

However, by taking advantage of the reconstruction, it is possible to soften those negative impacts and in fact enhance accessibility. The new construction offers an opportunity to expand the links which help the community stay connected. Constructing a walking path adjacent to, but removed from the traffic, would provide a place for cyclists, walkers and snowmobilers among others, to move safely along the highway corridor. In the case of Minden, many of the key community services are now located on the highway. It is important that these services not be restricted to just vehicular access alone. Not only will those living in the immediate area benefit by the improved accessibility, but visitors will be attracted to the area by an extensive and growing network of trails that allow them to move about the Highlands easily and efficiently.

While the Highway 35 reconstruction provides an excellent opportunity to address this issue in Minden, it is a matter which should also be of concern to the newly reformed Haliburton Highlands Trails and Tours Committee. The group should ask to have the issue reopened and press the case for adjacent multi-use trail construction. Indeed, whenever a road is being reconstructed in the Highlands, no matter whose jurisdiction it falls under, there should be the automatic inclusion of a trail component in the planning until it is proven to be infeasible.

Only by slowly building the existing trail links will the trail system in the Highlands expand to meet the needs of those who choose something other than an automobile as their means of transportation.

Letters

Toward a solution

An open letter to Art T. Field, President of the Victoria- Haliburton NDP Association

I feel it is important to correct some of the statements you made in your open letter to me in the The Times (May 13).

The Bancroft District MNR is proceeding with the necessary repairs to the Kinmount dam, as recommended by our community. This investment of a couple hundred thousand dollars is money that is necessary for operation of the dam and will help attract a new owner. This doesn't sound like action of a ministry whose priority, according to you is decommissioning.

The Water Management Business Plan of the ministry does recommend alternative delivery approaches that will reduce cost, improve client services, promote public safety, protect resources and rationalize water management in the province. Both MNR staff and my constituency staff are working closely with the concerned councils and individuals on resolving this to everyone's satisfaction.

Your claims of destroyed fish habitat and worthless cottages are nothing more than ridiculous fear mongering. I would think if you were truly concerned, your time would be better spent attending the various meetings on this subject and working with the community towards a solution.

Chris Hodgson,
MPP Victoria-Haliburton

Clean-up appreciated

Editor:

This is just a long overdue "thank you" to all the dedicated few who diligently restored the Lochlin Community Centre to a clean, neat and attractive building inside and out.

These people have put in many long hours, painting, cleaning, planting trees and flowers. The place looked just great and so, thank you all who took part in this endeavour. We really appreciate the big improvement.

Defining disrespect

Editor:

Political science students would tell Mr. Geoff Robinson of Haliburton (Letters, July 13) that he needs to reassess his definition of the word "disrespect".

Disrespect is leaving patients in hospital corridors because the beds and nurses to facilitate their care no longer exist. Disrespect is sending elderly disabled patients home after surgery with instructions to remove their own catheters, it is telling someone to wait four months for life saving surgery and leaving the mentally ill on the streets.

Disrespect is trivializing and destroying the tradition of local democracy. It is downloading services under the guise of accountability. It is any government that abdicates its responsibility to its citizens. It is giving to the rich and taking from the poor.

Disrespect is treating the environment like a garbage dump with an endless capacity to absorb toxic waste.

Disrespect is surreptitiously placing slot machines in communities that don't want them, all in the name of charity, of course.

Disrespect is a government that governs with the deceit and moral bankruptcy of hyenas. One wonders how Conservative MPP's sleep at night. I guess when you are in bed with the boys from the Fraser Institute it's easy.

Diane Thompson,

Good service... ...the right attitude

Editor:

Congratulations Dave's on 35. You got it right first time.

We seldom eat at Dave's but last Saturday we decided to have a quick lunch there. Unfortunately we both disliked our hot dogs. Dave was cleaning up the grounds when I expressed our concern. No problem, no argument, no excuses, no resentment. Just excellent customer relations. "I'm sorry, would you like replacements or your money refunded."

I accepted the offer of a refund for one. Not only did we get the refund but also a card redeemable for another hot dog.

If only other major restaurants could do it so well. Wait staff frequently ask if everything is ok but seldom know how to deal with a negative comment. Even if the owner is called he/she seldom handles the complaint as well as Dave did.

Thanks, Dave, your service was truly appreciated.

Peter and Eileen Overington, Haliburton.

Art from a can

Let me confess right off the top that I am not a big fan of most Modern Art. Various experts have assailed me for being a Philistine and a barbarian, not to mention a crude, unlettered lout who "just doesn't get it".

Well, sorry, folks, but I don't think I'm the one who doesn't get it. I believe the Emperor is buck naked.

I thought Modern Art had reached the bottom of the barrel — or soup can — back in the '60's when certified American flake Andy Warhol proved he could paint a portrait of a can of Campbell's Soup and have it declared a priceless masterpiece.

I was wrong. I underestimated the gullibility of the Art World.

But I think the descent may have bottomed out this summer at Sotheby's Auction House in London, England. That's where a 'work' by Italian artist Piero Manzoni recently sold for more than $50,000.

The work? It is entitled Merda d'Artista. It is a 30-gram tin can filled with the artist's excrement.

And don't feel bad that you missed a chance to join the bidding — there are 89 identical feces-laden cans waiting to be auctioned off.

himself as an anarchist. He created Merda d'artista as a protest against the direction he thought Art was taking. He saw that artists like Picasso were selling doodles on serviettes for huge sums of money, so he started filling up tins with his personal artistic statement and labeling them. His idea was to peg the price of his...works...to the exchange rate of gold — presumably to see just how absurd Art aficionados could get.

Manzoni died in 1963 — too soon to realize that he had seriously underpriced his protest work.

The Modern Art crowd loves Manzoni. "He has transformed the very nature of Art" chirrup one critic. Another — Elena Guena, European Head of Contemporary Art at Sotheby's, no less — insists that his work "embodies a rarefied purity of aesthetic vision."

Not everyone was taken in. One London Art critic sneered that Manzoni's work "exemplifies the bowels of degeneracy" to which Art has sunk. But that didn't stop an institution as venerable as Sotheby's Auction House from leaping at the opportunity to merchandise the, well, crap, out of Manzoni.

I suppose we should be grateful to Piero Manzoni and his Merda d'artista. Surely his odoriferous contribution has taken Modern Art to its final destination in terms of absurdity?

Or perhaps not.

I read in a recent edition of The Globe and Mail about a terribly serious art collector by the name of Hortensia de la Cruz, whose mansion is filled with the very latest in contemporary art works.

Recently, while giving a guided tour of her collection for a gaggle of New York art enthusiasts, Mrs. de la Cruz was nonplused by one spectator who rushed up to a tangle of electrical wires spilling out of her living room wall. "MMMmmmmmm" cooed the spectator, "this is a new work. Very resonant!"

"It was my safety alarm" Mrs. de la Cruz admitted later. "I had just moved a painting to another room, exposing the electrical connections. There were 20 people in the group. It would have been embarrassing to explain. I just kept going and talking..."

Very wise, Mrs. de la Cruz.

Say — you wouldn't want to buy a bridge, would you?

The first team of roasters places the 171 pound wild boar on the spit for the Lochlin United Church's Wild Boar Roast this past weekend. The roasting begins Friday night with teams of volunteers overseeing the process until the pig is done to perfection and served Saturday evening. Stanhope league boasts 120+ soccer players Stanhope Park is a soccer haven Tuesday evenings. More than 140 young soccer players gather at the newly expanded facility to hone their skills and engage in some competition.

Coaches give the budding soccer stars some pointers on the finer points of the game before they get into some serious competition.

The league will run until August 25, when a fun day will wrap up the season.

Spectators are always welcome to come out, pick a team and cheer the players on to victory.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE BALL: Two of the more than 120 soccer players from the Stanhope Soccer League concentrate on the ball during Tuesday evening action at Stanhope Park.

Minden Minor Softball annual tournament set for July 26

The Minden Minor Softball Association is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year and some special events have already taken place.

The Association has a new name and logo. The logo was the result of a contest, which was open to players in the Association. The contest was judged by Jack Brezina of The Times, Daryl Moore of the Lions Club, Jim Carrell of the Kinsmen Club and Steve Crowe of Kawartha Dairy.

Association officials send out their congratulations to all those who participated. They made the judges' decision very difficult. Participants included Joshua Freeman, Jesse Silver, Coral Pratt, Nikki Voicey, Ryan Kennedy, Nicholas Botticella, Tanner Warburton, Zachary Simpson, Luke Silver, Carleigh Warburton, Sterling Crowe, Brad Brown, Trevor Clement, Ryan Cole, Steven Trepanier, Heather Kennedy, Michael Lennox, Kenny Lawrence, Curtis Penick, Alyssa Crowe, Kim Barnhart, Nathan Greer, Margaret Berube, Tony Penick, Kayla Shaw, McKay Shaw and the winner, Ryan Shaw.

All of the Association's T-shirts and hats sport the logo, along with the team sponsor's name.

There are just a couple of weeks of league play before the season finale, the annual Tournament Day, which is scheduled for July 26.

Following is the schedule of times when the various divisions play:

Mondays, starting at 6:30 p.m. -- Junior T-Ball (two teams, James Howe Builder and Sid Stamp Fuels); Senior T-Ball (two teams, Lions Club and Kinsmen Club); 5-Pitch (two teams, Home Hardware and John Francis Fuels); Atom (four teams, IDA, Homestead Carpet, Floyd Hall Insurance and Riverview Furniture).

Tuesday evenings beginning at 6:30 -- Squirt (four teams, Dollo's IGA, CIBC, valu-mart and Dave's on 35).

Thursdays, beginning at 6:30 p.m. -- Peewee (four teams, Westside Jug City, Kawartha Dairy, Northern Lights and The Times).

Thursday evenings beginning at 8 o'clock -- Bantam (two teams, Subway and Harding Iron and Metal).

There's still time to get out and see some rising stars in action.

the golf page

by Tom Ecclestone

With the hot and humid weather conditions we have experienced lately its a good idea to remember to protect ourselves on the course. For some, its just too hot and uncomfortable to play golf. However, for the daily golfer, consideration must be given to the air quality and those always harmful ultraviolet rays.

Sunscreen should be applied to all exposed skin prior to tee off and should be reapplied before teeing off on the back nine. A wide brim hat will protect a good portion of your face and ears and although most of the pros don't wear them, sunglasses are recommended because the sun's rays can cause various eye ailments, including cataracts.

Be prepared for the sun with a wet towel and plenty of drinking water. Avoid dehydration with a banana or two and it doesn't hurt to carry aspirin in your bag as well. Should you experience any queaziness or have trouble breathing, stop what your doing and seek shade. Don't take any chances on heat stroke. Get to the comfort of the air conditioned club house and save those birdies for another day.

Due to the early start of our golf season this year, all area courses are reporting noticeable increases in the number of rounds played. And statistics show more and more people, particularly Canadians, are taking up the game. Prime tee times are booked as soon as they become available and this has resulted in many dissappointed golfers who are accustomed to just 'showing up to play'.

Walk-on golf is acceptable locally in the early spring and fall, especially during the week. But the summer is a different story altogether. Get your group organized, make a tee time and get to the course early.

Along with the hot and sticky conditions, short fuses are not uncommon. At some point in time, we will all find ourselves behind a group of new golfers or 'folks out for a good time.' The course marshall and the pro shop will be aware of the situation usually before they make it to the first tee. Leave the etiquette speech to the golf course staff and keep calm.

Should you be thinking about taking up the game, contact the pro shop for a lesson and spend some quality time on the driving range. All golfers, experienced or new, keep in mind the following:

1. Be ready to play; don't create any delays by wondering who tees off first.

2. Get the shorter hitters to tee off if the group in front is within range.

3. One practice swing prior to addressing the ball.

4. On the fairway, hit your shot and move along. Think about your next club selection while walking.

5. Don't spend a lot of time looking for lost balls.

6. If you can't keep up to the group in front of you and the group behind is constantly waiting, let them play through.

7. On the green, be sure someone is always ready to putt and finish off as soon as possible.

8. Replace the flag and move to the next tee. Mark you score at that time.

Keep your group moving and be considerate of others on the course. The popularity of the game continues to grow, therefore we will be dealing with more and more rookies. Remember, we were all beginners at one time or another.

Horses and horsepower draw people to Norland

Twenty-four years without rain. That is what announcer Ingram Wessell boasted at the 24th annual Norland

Firefighters Association Horse Pull. In the 24-year history of the event, it has never been rained out. It has been a welcome drought.

Attendance at this year's event was up from 1997.

Along with the horse pull, the event featured a car show, with 44 cars entered. That's more than double the number from last year, which was the first year the car show was incorporated into the day's activities.

A craft show, with about 20 tables, was held inside the community centre.

Musical entertainment was provided by Roger Gill and Company.

MNR extends deadline for antlerless deer validation tag draw

The Ministry of Natural Resources announced today that the deadline for applying for the 1998 antlerless deer validation tag draw has been extended by 10 days, to Monday, August 10. This will give hunters an additional time period during which they can purchase their deer hunting licence and submit their application for an antlerless deer validation tag.

MNR decided on the 10-day extension because production delays held up arrival of Residents and Farmers Deer licences at issuer locations. Hunting licences were available at most hunting licence issuer locations throughout the province by July 17.

The extension of the deadline helps hunters who apply in person for the Antlerless Deer Validation Tag Draw. The application forms are now available. Hunters should ensure that their application reaches a ministry district or area office, or the address on the back of the application by no later than 4:30 p.m.,

Monday, August 10.

Hunters may also apply by telephone, using MNR's convenient Telephone Application and Licensing System to purchase their Residents Deer Licence. This system has not been affected by the delay in production of application forms. However, MNR is also extending the deadline for the telephone system to 11:50 p.m. (EDT) Monday, August 10 for added convenience.

It is important for hunters to note that applications received after the new draw deadline of August 10 will not be entered into this year's draw.

Information on the Telephone Application and Licensing System is available in the Ontario Hunting Regulations Summary Fall 1998 - Spring 1999 or at ministry offices. Hunting licences are available at issuer locations throughout the province.

Lands For Life round table meetings wrap up this week

Natural Resources Minister John Snobelen announced July 31 as the deadline for the Lands for Life Round Tables to submit their draft recommendations.

"I have accepted the advice of the chairs of the Round Tables to extend the deadline for submission of their draft recommendations for the final time in recognition of the tremendous public interest in the Lands for Life process," Snobelen said. "This final extension also recognizes the complexity of the task and the hard work of each of the Round Table members."

"Lands for Life is a comprehensive process for developing a land-use strategy for a broad area of Crown land in Ontario. It represents a new and better way for the Ontario government to make decisions on land-use planning on Crown land."

"Lands for Life is an attempt to involve individuals in the most transparent and open land-use planning process Ontario has ever had," Snobelen said. "This government is committed to the Lands for Life process because for the first time groups of everyday Ontarians are mandated to make recommendations arrived at by considering the best available science and addressing the needs and concerns of their neighbors and fellow citizens."

The first phase of Lands for Life, under way for more than a year, is led by three Round Tables, with each one responsible for developing draft recommendations on a land-use strategy for a major part of the vast area of Crown land in Ontario. The 43 members of the three round Tables represent a broad range of interests.

To date, the Round Tables have generated significant public input into the process. More than 10,000 people have attended Round Table meetings, 800 have made presentations representing such interests as hunting, parks, protected areas, the environment, angling, mining, forestry, tourism, commercial fishing, cottaging, snowmobiling, prospecting, fur harvesting, camping, scientific research and municipalities. Extensive discussions have also taken place with First Nations. In addition, thousands of people have faxed, mailed or used Internet e-mail to send the Round Tables their thoughts and ideas on land use in Ontario. The Round Tables have analysed this public input and will use it to assist them in developing their draft recommendations.

The draft recommendations will be available to the public and posted at <http://www.mnr.gov.on.ca/MNR/lfl> on the Lands for Life Internet site. Once it receives the draft recommendations at the end of July, the government will analyse them to assess the progress on meeting the four goals of the Lands for Life process:

- * complete Ontario's system of parks and protected areas
- * provide enhanced opportunities for hunting and angling
- * address the need of the resource-based tourism industry
- * address the needs of the forest-products and mining industries

"Once the government completes its review of the draft recommendations it will be in a position to make a decision on the next steps in the Lands for Life process," Snobelen said.

One Round Table session remains. It will be held July 20 to 22 at the Otonabee Inn, Peterborough. The meetings start at 9 a.m.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters Golf competition now on Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Victoria-Haliburton are holding a Closest to the Hole golf competition at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course over three weekends. The opening two days were this past weekend, July 25 and 26 and the weekend of August 1 and 2 are the other competition dates.

Over the three weekend period, golfers who wish to participate pay a $5 entry fee before teeing off at the par three eighth hole. Those golfers who hit the green are entered into the competition.

First prize for the man who shoots closest to the hole is a limited edition print, by Barry Barnett, of a cougar, valued at $350. The woman who shoots closest to the hole will receive a limited edition print, by Barry Barnett, of song birds/finches, also valued at $350. The prints will be available for viewing at the eighth tee.

"We are just thrilled to receive this type of support from Haliburton Highlands Golf Course. They contacted us to offer their course for free. It is a wonderful opportunity for us to raise much-needed funds, but far more important than that is the opportunity for us to be more visible in the community," said Dianne Austin, Executive Director of Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Victoria-Haliburton.

"The need for 'Bigs' is ever present. We currently have 40 boys and 12 girls waiting for that special friend. Ten of those children live in Haliburton County," Austin said. "We will have information available at the event and we will be more than willing to speak to individuals who might be considering becoming a Big Brother, Big Sister or Big Couple. We need adult volunteers, especially men, who are willing to share a fun-filled friendship with a child."

As a Big Brother, Big Sister or Big Couple, you do not have to adhere to a rigid weekly schedule when meeting with your "Little." You work out a schedule that is good for both of you. The ways in which Bigs and Littles connect, and how often, varies from friendship to friendship. Being a friend to a child does not involve spending a lot of money. In fact, most Bigs and Littles engage in free or almost free activities.

"We focus on matching the adult volunteer with a child who shares the same kind of interests," Austin said.

"If you are planning to go golfing over the next couple of weekends, take a little extra money with you and support a great cause while having some fun," Austin suggests. "Also, give a little thought to how you could make a difference in a child's life, and your own, by sharing just a few hours of your time. The rewards to both of you will be great!"

the lake as moderately enriched, with little variation in the test results. He noted that the association had agreed to take part in the FOCA sponsored testing program, which should help fill the gap left by the withdrawal of Ministry of Environment testing services. The MOE will test only one water sample in the season while the FOCA testing, which utilizes a private laboratory, will test six samples for $150.

MacMillan paid tribute to David Wilson, who has been responsible for collecting the water samples during the past year.

He also told the meeting that a test for Zebra Mussel larvae will take place August 1. He said the larvae can be identified long before the mussels are evident. He also said there is likely little the association or anyone can do if the mussels get into the lake. The test will only provide the members with a warning that the pest could become a nuisance in a couple of years.

The Lake Steward told the meeting that he has yet to receive a report on the dead loon found in the lake last year in the lake. The frozen body is currently in storage at the Ministry of Natural Resources office in Minden. Examination of the bird's body appears to have been a victim of government cuts to local services. It is hoped the loon can be forwarded to the Agricultural College in Guelph for analysis.

Finally, the members were reminded that their activity can affect the quality of water in Mountain Lake. Members were asked to ensure their septic systems were operating properly, not to use fertilizers on their lawns, use phosphate-free detergents and allow the shoreline vegetation to remain as natural as possible.

Other issues

The membership agreed to an increase in fees from $10 to $12 per year. It was pointed out that the fee had not been increased in the association's 20 year history and that similar organizations in the area were levying higher fees.

Jack Higginson reported to the meeting that the organization currently had 123 members of a possible 225 on the lake. The membership is expected to increase at least to last year's total of 168.

President Steve Taylor paid tribute to the past presidents and members of the association's executive for guiding the association through its first 20 years. "These are key people who made this association work," he told the audience as he asked the past presidents to rise and accept the appreciation of the membership.

Taylor also reminded the members of an effort to gather memorabilia about Mountain Lake. Ruth Benson, the association secretary, has become the curator of these items and would appreciate hearing from anyone who has any items, not necessarily just photos, of early years on the lake.

Touring through Canada and heading for the United States, Hartmot Volberg, left, and his nephew Christian Hadrich made a stop in Minden, July 6. They had a special interest in the community as the licence plate on their imported camper indicates....they are from Minden, Germany. Their thoughts on Minden, Ontario..."It is much smaller than our Minden, but a very pleasant place."

The Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation now has an office on Haliburton's Main Street thanks to the generosity of Larry van Lieshout. The local businessman has donated space to the foundation in the basement of the Village Barn. Marking the occasion are, from the left, Foundation summer student Jenn Bradford, Larry van Lieshout, Foundation Chair Dale Walker, Haliburton Highlands Health Services executive director Foster Loucks and Foundation manager Diane Springstein. The foundation also maintains an office in Minden next to the Health Services office in the lower level of the Land Registry office on Newcastle Street.

Highlands in the running for Trillium arts award

The Trillium Foundation has announced that the Haliburton Highlands arts community is a finalist for its 1998 Caring Communities Award. The only one of its kind in Canada, the Caring Communities Award recognizes Ontario communities that successfully work together to improve the quality of life and overall well being of their communities.

"Becoming a finalist is a great honour for our community, and recognition of our long history of working together as caring people who want Haliburton County to grow," said Barb Bolin, Chair of the Haliburton County Development Corporation's Arts Committee.

Two weeks ago, members of the Trillium Foundation visited the area to talk with representatives of various arts organization. That meeting was held at the J.D. Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton and involved representation from close to 25 groups. The presentations made by the groups and the tour of the county which followed will assist the Foundation in deciding the recipient of the award.

In choosing the Haliburton Highlands arts community as a finalist, the Trillium Foundation recognized the many unique ways the arts community cares for its own. Some of our most successful initiatives have included developing a volunteer support network, raising funds from all sectors to finance community initiatives such as the new theatre, sculptural landmarks, youth music festivals, the mural program in Minden and expanded scholarships at the School of Fine Arts. Participation in the School of Fine Arts contributes about $2 million to the local economy, with artists' shows and tours contributing a further $1 million.

Haliburton County is one of up to 25 finalists for this year's Caring Communities Awards. As many as five winners will be recognized at a celebration in Toronto on October 15.

1998 Caring Communities Award winner receives a $20,000 grant for further community work. They also receive communications resources and opportunities to share their experiences with other communities, including an invitation to participate in a two day conference with communities from across Ontario.

The Trillium Foundation's Caring Communities Award is unique because it recognizes communities as a whole - not organizations or individuals - for their achievements in making their collective home a better place to live. The award is about recognizing successful communities and inspiring others to do their best.

"We look for communities that work well together," said Trillium Foundation Executive Director Julie White. "Caring Communities don't wait for someone else to solve their problems, they find ways to solve them by their own means. Haliburton County is one of those communities, and we want to help them share their story with others," said White.

Communities of every size, from across the province applied for the 1998 Caring Communities Award. "Being chosen as a finalist is an accomplishment in itself," said White. "We received impressive stories from every corner of the province and we commend them all for their dedication and hard work."

The Trillium Foundation is Ontario's largest charitable foundation. Established in 1982 as an arm's length agency of the provincial government, Trillium works with others to make investments to build healthy, sustainable and caring communities. Last year, the foundation disbursed more than $15 million to approximately 400 community organizations across Ontario.

Several weeks past the start of the mural project in Minden members of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 636, Seniors Club presented organizers with a donation of $250. Georgina Parkes, second from the left, made the presentation on behalf of the club, to mural committee member Morris Duff. Also on hand for the presentation were committee member and former Agnes Jamieson Gallery administrator Ruth Amos, left, and the artist John Lennard.

Banking service available again in Kinmount

Give Kinmount a little credit. After six years without a financial institution, the Kinmount branch of the Mariposa Community Credit Union is open for business.

Representatives from local business and government were on hand to witness the ribbon cutting ceremony on June 27 and all were enthusiastic about the potential for the credit union.

Guy Scott, councillor for Galway, Cavendish and Harvey, local businessman and member of the Kinmount Planning and Economic Development Committee, which assisted in bringing the credit union to Kinmount, was excited and a little relieved that the project has finally come to fruition. "It certainly is a pleasure to stand here on the threshold of a financial institution and look out on a crowd again," said Scott. "I want to thank those who have supported the credit union and bought memberships. You are the owners here. This is our community credit union."

The credit union, located at the County Kin Bakery building on Kinmount's main street, was established to fill the void left by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce when it closed its branch in 1992. There was concern in the community that if Kinmount did not have a financial institution, residents would not only go out of town to do their banking, but also to shop, eat and spend their money elsewhere.

The Mariposa Community Credit Union was born out of a similar situation in Little Britain. When the CIBC pulled out, community members set out to establish the first new credit union in 15 years. After two years, the credit union was already making a profit.

Dianne Austin, reeve of Somerville Township applauded Kinmount for its determination to get a financial institution back into the community. "I want to congratulate those people who worked so hard for this," said Austin.

Also on hand were Snowdon Reeve Ross Rigney, Somerville Councillor Audrey Thrasher, Deputy Reeve Jack MacDonald, as well as Reeve Tom Flynn and Deputy Reeve Audrey Coumbs of Galway, Cavendish and Harvey townships in Peterborough County. "It's a real pleasure for me to be here," said Flynn. "This is a day for celebration for the people of Kinmount." Guy Scott also read a letter from the SUCCESS YOU CAN BANK ON: Members of local municipal councils, bank representatives and the Member of Provincial Parliament were on hand to participate in the Mariposa Credit Union's ribbon cutting ceremony at the new branch in Kinmount. From the left are, Credit Union employee Shirley Hill, Somerville Reeve Dianne Austin, MPP Chris Hodgson, Snowdon Reeve Ross Rigney and Galway Cavendish and Harvey Reeve, and Warden of Peterborough County, Tom Flynn. In the back row are Galway Cavendish and Harvey Councillor Guy Scott and David Halsey of the Mariposa Credit Union.

Reeve of Laxton, Digby and Longford, congratulating Kinmount for its success.

MPP Chris Hodgson was on hand to officially open the credit union. "It's great to be here today," said Hodgson. "This business will help all businesses in Kinmount. It's a great day for Kinmount." He noted that perhaps with a local banking venue, residents will begin to increase their local shopping and conduct their business in Kinmount.

According to Kinmount Branch Manager Bob MacMorran, memberships have been selling at a rapid pace. He is pleased with the interest locals have taken in the Mariposa Community Credit Union, as well people from other communities. He stated that several new members hail from Coboconk, Minden and Haliburton.

Local Personal Support Workers graduate

by Beth Archibald

Many families, friends, co-workers and employers gathered in Peterborough for the second graduation of the Personal Support Worker (PSW) course from Sir Sandford Fleming College.

This past six months, 25 Haliburton County working women went "back to school" to upgrade their Health Care Aide (HCA) and Home Support Worker (HSW) certificates to the new PSW Certificate. The HCA practices mainly in institutions, whereas the HSW practices in the community. The new PSW replaces both, combining and expanding skills required for both institutional and community health care. Skills include bathing, meal preparation, assistance with mobility, assistance with health management and much more. In the near future, all health care employees will require this new certificate.

Over the past few months, employers such as Red Cross and Haliburton Highlands Supportive Housing Services received funding from the Ministry of Health - Long-Term Care Division to send staff for this upgrade. This funding paid for each student's tuition, books, time lost at work and mileage.

Jane Rogers, Diane Longmuir, Lydia Comeau, Thora Fideau, Rose-Alma Merritt, Hannel Walsh, Cathy Fisher, Shelly Sills, Jean Hancock and Paula Reid.

Jean Hancock left, and Brenda Laver, both staff members with Haliburton Highlands Supportive Housing Services, received their Personal Support Worker certificates from Sir Sandford Fleming College, along with 23 other Haliburton County women.

Residents coping with many changes

Pretty soon we won't recognize this place, so many changes going on. It must be confusing to anyone who has not visited for a while. However, we are coping so far.

Our tea party, on the ninth, hosted by the Eastern Star of Haliburton, was much enjoyed. A good crowd turned out and quite a few of us were pleased to say hello to some old friends. Many thanks ladies. Over that weekend there were lots of visitors coming and going and a few of us were fortunate in being whisked away for a while. Walter and Vera Stevens were pleasantly surprised with their two visitors. Vera's "baby sister", Beryl and her husband Norman popped in for a quick visit on their way back from Kirkland Lake, where they had been visiting more family. Revered Burgess

Senior League

by the Roving Reporters

was here for his pastoral visitations and Sunday afternoon isn't complete without our ice cream treats.

Monday was the day for our monthly residents' council meeting. A report was given on our Country Jamboree fundraiser. We were very pleased at its success. We will be presenting a cheque soon for $1,500 to the Hospital Building Fund, and the balance will be used for such things as maintaining the Hyland Rover, future equipment etc.

The following day a few of us got together with the volunteers and prepared shish-kabobs, for the barbeque, which we later enjoyed for lunch. Meanwhile many attended our chapel service with Pastor Power and Lynda on the organ. The craft group met as usual in the afternoon and later that evening the "regulars" got together for the cards session.

On Wednesday, despite the heat, the Hyland Rover transported many of us to Dorset for a picnic. We thoroughly enjoyed this outing. Lunch was good and thank you Linda for bringing your guitar along. The sing-song was great fun.

Today, The Minden Shufflers are scheduled for our tea party. Right now as we write this, we are hearing the music of Jack and Ruth Worthington coming from the lounge. They are here Thursday mornings for a sing-song. Our thanks to them.

Before we go, our get well wishes to Evelyn Coleman (one of our volunteers). Evelyn had eye surgery recently and we are told it was successful.

That's it folks. Bye now.

TSW report

The loss from the Haliburton Reservoirs for this past week (ending July 13) was a total of 3.9 per cent, which is near normal for the summer months. It is expected that the following week will see more rapid decline since there was little precipitation, varying from only 1 mm to several millimetres for the week, and little is forecast.

The Burnt River, Mississauga River and Eels Creek all ran above minimum flow while the Gull River was running very close to its minimum.

The Severn area saw Lake Simcoe decline four centimetres in the week, but it is still five centimetres above the rule curve. It is expected that the lake level will continue to slide due to the dry week anticipated, but will still be above normal rule curve which is declining as the summer goes along.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE RESIDENTS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SOMERVILLE

Due to the implementation of Current Value Assessment, the late return of the Assessment Roll, and the numerous decisions that have to be made regarding the Final Tax Bills, the final bills will in most likelihood not be issued until the end of August to the middle of September. This will result in delayed tax instalment due dates for our municipalities.

Once the bill has been issued taxpayers will be given ample time to pay the instalments. We are expecting the final instalments to be due during the fall months.

If you wish to make any payments in advance of the billing to assist with budgeting the payments, we will be pleased to accept your payments and credit them to your account. We apologize for any inconvenience or confusion the new taxation system may have caused during the transition period. If you require further information, please contact your local municipal office.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4425)

Oh, the heat!!

But we are so lucky to be up here out of the smog and the ribbons of concrete. On such a hot day, the river flowing past my front door and through the town has a cooling and calming effect. I remember the cottage on such a hot day: sitting on the dock or under a tree and jumping in when the heat was no longer bearable. To be near water is such a privilege and a pleasure!!

Last week a young guest, sitting on the porch before breakfast, came running in to say there was an ambulance at the cottages across the river. It turned out to be there for Alan Stevenson who died later that morning. Alan has been a part of my life since I moved here. The first winter he lived in one of my cottages but moved out in the spring to one of Jeff Campbell's cottages. I think he was happier over there because there was more things and people to see. Alan had to use a walker to get around until the last year when sitting at his table outside in all the seasons was all he could manage. I always felt him over there keeping an eye on me.

I have some favorite stories about Alan. One story was the year my home was on the Home and Garden Tour. Alan said to May Stevenson who had brought him his supper, "I don't know what she's doing over there but there sure are a lot of people going in and out!!" Alan did not want a colour TV or cable. He was adamant. Somehow they got him to get a colour set but the day they came to install the cable, the workmen had to rattle the antenna on the roof and report to him that it was fixed. The next day he told May, "See I was right. I have never had such good reception or so many channels". Alan never did know he had cable!! God Bless you Alan. My condolences to his family, especially May.

The second annual Quilt, Rug and Fibre Arts Show, sponsored by the County Town Museum and Pioneer Centre will be held on Saturday, July 25 from 9 to 5 p.m., and Sunday July 26, 9 to 3 p.m. The show is subtitled, "Collections of a Lifetime". There will be quilts and quilted items on display along with hooked rugs, knitting crocheting, spinning and weaving. There will be items for sale along with workshops, demonstrations and raffle tickets!! So much will be going on it is difficult to mention it all. The best plan would be to go out and experience it all!! I remember the wonderful event last year and this year sounds bigger and better!!

Speaking of the museum, a lot of changes have been going on there too. All the buildings were emptied, cleaned, painted, re-arranged and all the artifacts have been re-distributed around the complex. Of course we have all noticed the windmill in place on the property and the new display building under construction but not open for business just yet. On the other hand the drive shed which hasn't been open for five years is open again. On display is the butt end of a white pine log, showing the size of trees as they were years ago. The energy at the museum, especially the energy of Marvella Smith, the curator, is amazing!! With all this extra storage space there now, it is possible for the public to bring any goods they want to donate to the Museum Garage Sale, held every spring, to the museum during the summer months. The Museum hours are 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Tuesday to Saturday.

Stanhope Bridge is really hopping!! There were nine + tables last week. Four slams were bid and made!! Ross Fletcher got two of them, one with Muriel McIntosh (sorry for the misspelling last week!), and the other with Jack Croucher. Frank Schlotter and Ray Moore got the third and Dorothy Strype and Wynne Hansen the fourth. Helen Heald won the lucky draw, which was a fitting tribute to her return to bridge after an absence of some weeks. The results of the day saw Harold Cox in fourth place with 5,930; Muriel McIntosh, third, with 6,190; Ross Fletcher, second with 9,970; and on top of the heap, Betty Roszell with 6,990. Betty took first place over Ross without the benefit of small slam scores!! Good going Betty!!

St. Paul's Friendship Club had a nice cool afternoon of cards last Monday. Verna McDonald won lone hands. Elva Paisley was high woman and Pearl Cowen was high man. Low was Norm Lee. The 50/50 draw was won by Marie-Dennie.

Up at Hall's Lake, Club 35 had a great time last Monday evening. Maisie McCrone won the 50/50 draw. Lone hands was won by Jack McGill. Ellen Holden was high woman; Wayne Farr was high man; low woman was Marianne Stepanek and low man was Wally Harpur. Lou Penick won the baloney!! Some new names in this group this week!!

At the Legion in Minden last July 9, they had a good evening of Euchre. Ethel Baker and Rob Evans won the most lone hands for the women and the men. Mary Wilson won high score for the women and Jim Bradbury won it for the men. The low score was taken by Marion Tschida and Tod Edgson. Only two other prizes last week, won by Helen Skelding and Orval Francis.

An "Opportunity Shop" will be open at the Norland United Church for the month of July only. It will be open on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. There is free parking at the back of the church. The "Shop" will be selling nearly new clothing and attic surprises.

The Minden Trail, a joint project of Anson, Hindon and Minden Parks and Recreation Department, Minden and Area Horticultural Society and the AHM Environment Advisory Committee is asking for our input into the development of an interpretive guide for the trail which is situated in the area between south of Parkside Dr. and the Museum and east of Main Street. A pamphlet, available at the Municipal Office, includes space for trail users to add comments and suggestions. I hope some of you will take the time to enjoy this walk!!

I am getting ready to go off to lunch to meet a friend I haven't seen for 50 years!!! She tells me I will know by her red hair, which hasn't turned grey as mine has. How do you catch up on fifty years?

Have a good week now that we are in the middle of the summer season. When we meet again the Home and Garden Tour will be over and I know we will be sighing a sigh of relief for a job well done.

See you next time!!
